

2007 Alabama Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy Conference

Embassy Suites –Montgomery, AL

As facility owners, building managers, state agencies, K12, Higher Ed and local Government professionals, you have been challenged with looking for solutions to mitigate energy costs. This conference is designed to get you on your way to finding solutions. Depending on where your organization is on the “seeking solutions spectrum”, and based on the needs of your facilities, your solutions could be as basic as Energy Efficiency Measures, or they might include On-Site Renewables, Water Conservation Measures, or meeting the objective of achieving LEED certification status. The motivation may come from the belief that it is time to conserve our natural resources or to assist in addressing our energy security imperative.

The Alabama Energy Services Coalition (ESC) will show you many paths to sustainability and share with you a number of case studies that showcase winning strategies from organizations that dared to commit to achieving energy efficiency and sustainability goals using the energy savings performance contract (ESPC) approach.

It starts by calculating the risks your organization faces, and weighing the cost of delaying decisions to enable energy efficiency and facility improvements to be achieved simultaneously through ESPC. It includes a process to address those risks, and even better...to take advantage of opportunities that save money and help your organization meet energy cost reduction, energy efficiency and sustainability goals.
