How to Achieve Success

The "How to Achieve Success" session (Friday 9:15 to 10am) features our public sector partners from state agencies around the country. These presenters represent ESC Energy Stewardship Champion states and whose performance contracting programs are highlighted in this session. Champion states are recognized by the ESC for their outstanding GESPC programmatic design, leadership by elected officials, and private sector investment in projects. Presenters will share lessons learned in the development and operation of successful state programs promoting GESPC and which provide technical assistance and oversight to end-users engaging in the GESPC process.

Pete Berger, State of Minnesota, Department of Commerce, will moderate this session with presentations from:

Erica Velarde, State of New Mexico, General Services Department
Reid Conway, State Energy Office of North Carolina, Senior Energy Specialist
Taylor Lewis, Colorado Energy Office, Senior Program Manager

Conference Registration and Sponsorships:

Conference Registration remains open and sponsorship opportunities are still available.

Learn More

See Ya’ in Denver.
Time is running out to secure your exhibit space in support of this year's conference. For more information on various sponsorship levels and associated benefits, please click here.

In addition to a booth at the conference, all sponsors get a booth in the Energy Services Coalition's Virtual Trade Show. The Virtual Trade Show will remain open long after the conference concludes with entrance through the ESC website. Sponsors not only get a "traditional" exhibit booth at the conference (and free conference registrations), but their Virtual booth will be live on the ESC website's Virtual Trade Show until April 2020.

The Energy Services Coalition is pleased to have the support of the exhibitors in our Virtual Trade Show. As a coalition of public and private energy professionals we do not endorse or promote any private sector product or solution.